Top Ten Reasons for Adding "Just One More"

1. Additional purring equals increased calming to lower your heart rate.
2. Extra little hairy heaters warm you quicker on cold nights.
3. Prompts more frequent cleaning under large appliances while retrieving their toys.
4. More kitties mean fewer intermissions in the kitten caboodle "floor show".
5. Prevents lonely cat syndrome while you're away and encourages a fat cat to exercise, if only to beat the rest to the food.
6. Allows for "tag team" petting or play sessions.
7. Provides back-up alarm cats for those days when you can't afford to be late.
8. Keeps you limber by requiring more stretching to find kitty toys lodged behind or under furniture.
9. Pretty much guarantees you'll never have to spend time alone in the bathroom.
10. Who doesn't need MORE cuddling and love in their life?
